

Greetings in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Before diving into the meaning of such dreams, it's important to understand that there is a lot of misinformation and false teaching about dreams in the world today. Many people, even believers, have been led astray by trying to find spiritual meaning in every dream without consulting the Word of God. The Bible remains our ultimate authority, and any dream or experience must align with Scripture (Isaiah 8:20).

When it comes to dreams, they generally fall into three categories:

1. Dreams that Come from God

God can speak through dreams, often to reveal something important, give direction, or offer a warning. These dreams are usually clear, meaningful, and lead us to righteousness or repentance. They are consistent with God's nature and His Word.

Example: Pilate's Wife

“While he was sitting on the judgment seat, his wife sent to him, saying, ‘Have nothing to do with that just Man, for I have suffered many things today in a dream because of Him.’”

Matthew 27:19 (NKJV)

This shows that God can warn even unbelievers through dreams when His divine purpose is involved. However, such dreams are rare and usually leave a deep impression.

2. Dreams that Come from the Devil

Satan also uses dreams to instill fear, guilt, confusion, or temptation. These dreams often involve sinful behavior (like sexual immorality), occult practices, or disturbing imagery. They can be frightening or alluring, but they aim to distract, deceive, or spiritually harm the dreamer.

Paul reminds us that Satan disguises himself as an angel of light (2 Corinthians 11:14), and Jesus called him a liar and the father of lies (John 8:44). Dreams that promote sin or lead us away from God’s truth must be rebuked and rejected.

If you frequently have such dreams, it may be a call to examine your spiritual life, resist the devil through prayer and repentance (James 4:7), and submit your mind to the Word of God (Romans 12:2).

3. Dreams that Come from the Human Mind (Natural Dreams)

Most dreams fall under this category. These are not spiritual in nature. They are simply the result of your brain processing recent experiences, emotions, or thoughts during sleep.

Ecclesiastes 5:3 (NKJV):

“For a dream comes through much activity, and a fool’s voice is known by his many words.”

In other words, if you’ve been busy, stressed, or focused on something throughout the day, your mind may replay those experiences as dreams at night.

Examples:

- If you were hungry before bed, you might dream of eating.
- If you were watching football, you might dream of scoring goals.
- If you attended a funeral, you may dream of death or mourning.

These dreams have no spiritual meaning and do not require interpretation or concern. Trying to find a message in them can lead to confusion or unnecessary fear.

What About Dreams Where You Are Eating?

Dreaming about eating food like meat, rice, fruits, or snacks usually falls under the third category. This is especially common if you go to bed hungry or have been thinking about food.

Isaiah 29:8 (NKJV):

“It shall even be as when a hungry man dreams, and look he eats; but he awakes, and his soul is still empty; or as when a thirsty man dreams, and look—he drinks; but he awakes, and indeed he is faint, and his soul still craves...”

This clearly shows that such dreams can be a natural reflection of your physical condition rather than a spiritual message.

However, if the dream of eating involves strange or disturbing elements like eating with unknown people in a dark place, or being force-fed it may need prayer and spiritual discernment, as it could be from the enemy (1 John 4:1). In such cases, it's wise to pray, fast, and seek God's guidance.

Final Encouragement

Rather than focusing too much on dreams, we are called to focus on God's Word. The Bible is the sure and trustworthy guide for our lives.

Jeremiah 23:28-29 (NKJV):

“The prophet who has a dream, let him tell a dream; and he who has My word, let him speak My word faithfully. What is the chaff to the wheat?” says the Lord.

“Is not My word like a fire?” says the Lord, “And like a hammer that breaks the rock in pieces?”

God compares dreams to chaff and His Word to wheat meaning His Word is what truly nourishes and transforms.

An Invitation to Salvation

If you haven't yet given your life to Jesus Christ, know that the door of grace is still open. Repent and believe the Gospel. We are living in the final moments of the last days, and Christ could return at any time (Matthew 24:42-44). Don't delay. Turn to Him today, and He will receive you with open arms (John 6:37).

May the Lord bless you and keep you.
