

Nahum 1:7: “The Lord is good, a refuge in times of trouble. He cares for those who trust in him.”

I want to tell you — you who have made God your everything, without hypocrisy — know that God sees you. You who have made Him your final and only hope, God sees you. You who spend your time thinking about Him, meditating on His ways, and dedicating yourself to His work regardless of your circumstances — He knows you very well. You who strive tirelessly to grow in His knowledge even though others may think you’ve lost your mind or are wasting time — be assured, God knows you intimately.

It doesn’t matter how much the world sees you as lost, or how much your family may have rejected you, or how far your friends have distanced themselves — none of these things prevent God from seeing you. In fact, He sees you more clearly than you even understand.

In these last days, it is easy to hear even a drunkard or an adulterer, or someone dressed indecently say, “God is my refuge.” Some are good church attendees, singing in choirs, or leading the youth or women’s groups, yet secretly watching pornography or living in immorality — and they too claim, “God is my refuge.” Everyone can say these words because it’s easy to utter them.

But God says, “I know those who take refuge in Me.” (Nahum 1:7)

It doesn’t require sitting down to narrate your story to Him, or explaining through prayer, or singing beautiful worship songs saying, “You are my refuge, O Lord.” Nor does it require broadcasting it to everyone. Those things alone do not give you a ticket to be counted as one who has taken refuge in God.

Instead, your actions speak for you. With God, there is no political showmanship.

But I want to tell you — there is a great reward and a mighty blessing reserved for those who seek God with all their strength. There is a day — even here on earth — when you will be greatly refreshed, before you even get to heaven, as long as you do not faint.

Psalm 31:19-20 (NIV):

19 How abundant are the good things that you have stored up for those who fear you, that you bestow in the sight of all,

on those who take refuge in you.
20 In the shelter of your presence you hide them
from all human intrigues;
you keep them safe in your dwelling from accusing tongues.

So do not lose heart. The Lord always knows those who take refuge in Him.

God bless you.

Join our channel by clicking here >> WHATSAPP

Please share this good news with others. And if you would like us to send these teachings to you by email or WhatsApp, send us a message or call this number: +255 789001312

Share on:
WhatsApp

Print this post