Chapter 4 - The Women

This chapter contains 64 verses and is named after the women mentioned in it. It discusses various aspects of women's rights and responsibilities in Islam, including marriage, divorce, and inheritance. The chapter is one of the longest in the Quran and is known for its detailed and fair treatment of women's issues.

The chapter begins with the story of the women of the city of Madyan, who were wronged by their husbands and were seeking justice. Allah sent a messenger to them and they were forgiven for their sins. The chapter then discusses the rights of women in marriage, including the requirement of a dowry and the prohibition of polygamy.

“Allah has made for you what you need from the things which He has sent down in the Quran, and He has made for you what you need from the things which He has sent down in the Quran.”
Surah An-Nisa: 4:23 - ERV-HI
