Forasmuch as we are free from all things, let us not become entangled with them, lest we be hindered from the gospel of Christ. For we are the ministers of Christ, who are the servants of all, who are the servants of all, who are the servants of all.

For we are free from all things, let us not become entangled with them, lest we be hindered from the gospel of Christ. For we are the ministers of Christ, who are the servants of all, who are the servants of all, who are the servants of all.
